THE National Democratic Convention will be composed of 747 delegates—two for each elector, and one for each of the Territories and the District of Columbia. If the majority rule be adopted, 374 will be necessary to a choice, while if the old twothirds rule be adhered to, 498 will be re-

The Reaction in Iron.
The New York Eulletin says that in consequence of the reaction in the market for all descriptions of iron, at least twenty small and medium sized pig-iron furnaces have blown out within the past fortnight. The trade for the time being seems to be drifting back from day to day to the point where it started from last autumn. The nail mills are also suspending or curtailing operations, and with the rolling mills in every quarter the outlook for the moment is anything but exhilarating. The compensating reflection is that the market by this severe process is over-coming the effects of excessive stimulation and working itself into a healthy po-

The Progress of the Telephor It is not unlikely that strange experi-ences will occur ere long in every city of the land-Wheeling included. We refer to the success that is attending the development of the telephone as an instrument for conveying sound—not only conveying it, but making it more and more audible ments it has been making with telephones. One of these was to place two equally perfect, every note of the organ and of the individuals of the choir being fully brought out.

In consequence of the successful results the best lectures, musical and other ente tainments with the utmost satisfaction in their homes. Heretofore, in listening to the telephone it has required effort and strain of the ear on the part of the listen-

GETTING AWAY. Washington newspaper men say this passed before next Saturday night, the outlook for adjournment will be quite promising. There is an element of opposition in the House to the passage of the former bill without consideration in committee of the whole. If this should prove strong enough to deleat the bill being rushed through under the auspension plan, it will not be possible for Congress remains in session until after the holding of the Chicago convention, it will remain here until the middle of Juto. The chances are that if Congress remains in session until after the holding of the Chicago convention, it will remain here until the middle of Juto. The plan of the Democrats seems to be now to pass the bill prescribing the duties of appointment, as a separate bill. If the President signs it, well and good, but if he vectors it, then let the matter drop.

Tucker's tariff bill was agreed upon by the Ways and Means Committee yesterday, and was ordered to the House. That portion reported to the House. That portion reported to the House. That portion regulated by the national banks, and not

CONGRESS.

The Senate was not in session yesterday, and the House session was pretty well consumed in the consideration of the Curtin-Yocum contested election case.

In years gone by a map had to serve. horse. I would not take up the cable that the voters might settle it, but Representative Beltzhoover and others, who favor seating Curtin, urged that the circumstances had so changed that such a contest now would not settle the question of the original intention of the voters, and insisted that Congress should determine it. Curtin is about the best of the claimants who are asking seats in this Congress. He is a man of first-class ability as well as imposing presence, and if he had never put an enemy lato his mouth to steal away his brains, he would have kept himself in the front rank. The balance of the contestants who are here like Donnally, who wants Washburne's seat, and Boynton who is after Dr. Loring's chair, are rather a bad lot.

It is the only remedy I have ever used that I can recommend to my friends, as it has cured me of Bright's Discusse of long standing, after having visited the White Sulphur Springs of Virginia, and trying innumberable so-called "remedies" of the day. Having resided here for forty-seven years, my friends will be glad to see this statement. The discoverer is, indeed, a public benefactor.
